ACCOUNT OF BUSINESS ACTIVITIES TO THE TE OFFICE (GENERAL PARTNERSHIP AND LIMITED PARTNERSHIP)

SECTION A

Applicant

Applicant's name	Personal identity code
------------------	------------------------

You must submit an account of your business activities to the TE Office (Employment and Economic Development Office) to determine your right to unemployment security.

There is room for a free-form account at the end of the form. If you have several enterprises, you must fill in a form for each separate enterprise.

In the unemployment security system, working in a family business can also be seen as conducting business activities. "Family member" refers to married spouses or persons in a registered partnership. In addition, family members include cohabiting partners and relatives in a direct ascending or descending line who live in the same household.

The TE Office will ask you for more information if necessary. The TE Office may also require that you submit accounts to confirm the information you have provided.
